

UNITY AND DETERMINATION — two factors termed indispensable in efforts to provide citizens' group to press for flood control measures at last night's meeting in Monroe County Court House. Among the principals: Sen. William Z. Scott, Lensford; Rep. Van D. Yetter, Monroe county; Judge Fred W. Davis and Charles R. Bensinger, temporary chairman.

Delaware River Areas Form Flood Committee

MONROE COUNTY and other areas along the Delaware River moved one step closer to a permanent flood control council last night.

At a meeting attended by 35 persons in Monroe County Court House it was decided to form a committee of 12 or more members to draw up plans for a "parent organization" to guide civic pressure for action on flood control and water resources development along the river.

Charles R. Bensinger, Stroudsburg attorney, served as chairman for the meeting. The motion to form a committee of representatives from Monroe, Pike and Wayne Counties in Monroe; Northampton County communities and Warren and Sussex Counties in New Jersey came from Jesse S. Flory, East Stroudsburg.

Flory's motion passed unanimously by voice vote. Monroe delegates promptly selected were:

Bensinger, Edward Hess, Stroudsburg and Mrs. Edward Knob, East Stroudsburg. Hess is an engineer. Mrs. Knob represents Stroudsburg Woman's Club which has taken an active part in early plans for a flood control council.

Northampton County was represented at last night's meeting by Frederick Cox, Metropolitan-Edison Co. of Easton. Cox is one of three men appointed by the mayor of Easton to represent that community.

In his opening remarks, Bensinger emphasized that "the need for flood control hasn't lessened in Monroe County since last August—and it may have increased drastically."

Bensinger praised the State Department of Forests and Waters for "the splendid job they have been doing and are continuing to do" on the local level. He also noted the fine spirit of cooperation between the Department and the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers.

Rep. Van D. Yetter told the group that the Corps of Engineers is expected to work with Forests and Waters workers on a study of the Stroudsburg area in the near future. Yetter said the main trouble holding up steam clearance is lack of rights of entry from property owners—notably along railroad property lines.

Sen. William Z. Scott congratulated the group on the job it has undertaken. Scott noted that a legislative committee is now studying the Delaware River and that he and Yetter are both members. He said that "speed is highly important in any efforts we make—but we must also have a sense of direction."

Norman Dietrick, Monroe county soil conservation agent, described provisions of Public Law 566 which allows funds for watershed protection and flood prevention on a small scale. All of the speakers emphasized the great importance of "getting an organization set up to represent the area."

Bensinger told the group that Sen. Wayne Dumont, Warren County, N. J. legislator, had contacted his office and told him that Warren County residents and their officials were "fully in favor of the council and would certainly participate in it."

Senate-House Leaders Warn 'This Is It' On Farm Bill

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP)—A Senate-House Conference Committee tonight agreed upon a compromise farm bill—and committee leaders served notice on President Eisenhower that it is this bill or nothing.

The big measure contains a "soil bank" system of payments to farmers, plus 90 per cent price supports for basic crops this year. Eisenhower wants the soil bank but thoroughly dislikes the 90 per cent mandatory supports.

He and Secretary of Agriculture Benson plan to go into a huddle on the dilemma tomorrow morning. Meantime neither had any comment.

House and Senate have still to act upon the compromise. This action is scheduled for next week.

Sen. Ellender (D-La.), chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee, said flatly that either President Eisenhower "takes it or there is no farm bill" this session.

'Five-By-Five' Arrested In Phoenix

PHOENIX, Ariz., April 6 (AP)—Rout Harry Lester, a 250-pound salesman who rolled out of Buffalo, N. Y., 17 months ago owing $1,500,000 was arrested in this resort town today.

He was spotted in a nightclub by an airline clerk who used to work in Buffalo and three vacationing friends from New York State.

They recognized "Mr. Five-by-Five," as he is known in the East. Officers said Lester, whose real name is Hyman Trugman, admitted his identity at police headquarters after about an hour's questioning.

Warrants

The 42-year-old broker, who handled premiums given to customers by retailers, is charged in two Buffalo City Court warrants with second-degree grand larceny in issuing a $250 worthless check and with defrauding a hotel keeper.

An FBI warrant issued in connection with a bank loan charges Lester with transporting $30,000 across state lines by fraudulent means.

Shortly after his disappearance in November 1954, involuntary bankruptcy proceedings filed in Buffalo U. S. District Court listed his liabilities as more than $1,500,000.

Acting on the tip of the four Buffalo nightclubbers who later saw Lester in an all-night restaurant, police arrested the 5-foot-5 salesman at his downtown apartment.

"I went away for my health," Lester said. "If I had that much money I wouldn't be here in Phoenix. I have nothing stashed away, nothing in the banks."

Labor Official Robbed

ST. LOUIS, April 6 (AP)—Three masked men, two of them armed, robbed a St. Louis labor official of $12,195 today in a daring street holdup.

Earlier in the day Bensinger attended a meeting of officials from four Lower Delaware councils in Doylestown. Attending with him was Leonard Randolph, representing The Daily Record. The latter, in reporting last night on the meeting to the local group, said:

"The basic aim of the larger groups along the Delaware is to create an interstate citizens' conference for the control and development of the water resources of the Delaware River. This would include all phases of water resource development—with flood control, recreational facilities and a stable water supply as primary aims."

"The conference, as suggested by officials at the Doylestown meeting, would be an affiliation of existing, non-profit, public-purpose citizen organizations. Each member organization would name a delegate and an alternate."

One major function, he said, would be to "inform all persons in the Delaware River area" of the importance of control and development.

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP)—Two women are in the United States allegedly as wives of Jerome D. Pintos, a United Nations official, Rep. Walter (D-Pa.) said today.

Democrats Agree To Pass State Aid Bill

HARRISBURG, April 6 (AP)—Senate Democrats agreed today to final passage on Monday of a House-passed bill boosting state aid to municipalities for highway purposes from 18 to 30 million dollars a year.

The word came from Sen. John H. Dent, Democratic floor leader, to close an hour's debate in which chairman George N. Wade (R-Cumberland) of the Highways Committee said he is "fearful that Democrats are carrying out delaying tactics on the measure."

The bill actually had been in position for final passage the last two days but was postponed on the request of Dent who said he is having amendments prepared to make certain that the promised increase definitely is accomplished by the bill.

"We will go along with the bill whether our amendments are ready by Monday or not," Dent promised. He said they could be inserted by the House later.

Debate on the measure featured a business-like session in which the Senate advanced a number of major measures and adjourned until Monday. The House closed for the week yesterday.

Other Action

In other action, the Senate accepted a House-Senate Conference Committee report providing for 100 per cent reimbursement of gasoline taxes paid by farmers for use in tractors and other vehicles for farm work.

Agreement on the bill was reached after Gov. Leader changed his position. Originally Democrats had supported continuation of the present 50 per cent refund. The measure now goes to the governor.

Also approved was a conference committee report providing each senator with a $3,036-a-year secretary.

A bill authorizing loans up to 75 million dollars from the state Motor License Fund to the state treasurer for general Commonwealth operations was passed and sent to the House.

Its purpose is to save the state from paying interest rates on tax anticipation notes in emergencies such as the current session when a tax program could not be agreed upon for 15 months.

Action on a proposed amendment to the state constitution to provide for payment of a bonus to Pennsylvania veterans of the Korean War was put off until next week.

The bill has been approved by both houses, but the Senate must act on a clause inserted by the House calling for enactment of a tax program to supply funds for paying the bonus.

ABOARD SS CONSTITUTION, April 6 (AP)—Grace Kelly confessed today that the first time she saw her fiancé's palace in Monaco she amused herself in dreaming of how she would redecorate the ancient 120-room building.

But at the moment, Grace and Prince Rainier III are contemplating doing over only his five-room bachelor apartment in the palace with furnishings less heavy and masculine.

Grace discussed such plans amiably and with less restraint than usual when she entertained the reporters and photographers at a pre-lunch cocktail party.

Red Cross Drives Near Final Goal Of $19,290

WITHIN SIGHT of the Red Cross goal, the Monroe Chapter board last night heard that contributions had passed the $19,000 mark with the $19,290 goal practically within touching distance.

Reports from captains and house-to-house workers within the next few days are expected to demonstrate this county's gratitude for past services and its willingness to help maintain future services of the Red Cross.

In other developments at the meeting, Chairman Charles Bensinger named LeRoy Mikels, Mrs. Walter Dreher and James Gould as members of the nominating committee. The board voted to cooperate with neighboring chapters in setting up a Red Cross display for Armed Forces Day at the Tobyhanna Depot.

Mrs. LeRoy J. Koehler, vice chairman, took over after Bensinger left to attend the Flood Control Council meeting, and the date for the annual meeting was set for May 10 with a dinner at the YMCA and the presentation of certificates to volunteers as a highlight of the program. Mrs. Clifford Heller was named general chairman of the dinner.

Mrs. James Coleman was unanimously approved as chairman of the Nurses Aid Service of the local chapter, replacing Mrs. Olaf Pedersen who resigned because of heavy schedule of work for the state Polio Society.

Reporting for blood bank, Roy Mikels announced that 81 pints had been received against the 125 pint quota but that many willing donors had to be turned away because they had recently given to the Red Cross or the Skip Price blood appeals.

With no Blood Bank during March, the number of volunteers needed was 44, and they gave 457 hours of service. The bulk, 454 hours, was for the Gray Lady Service at the General Hospital.

In home service, the chapter served 14 cases, 13 of them active service cases; and had requests from 50 persons not counted as cases. The month's service included 11 telegrams, 18 long distance calls, 198 office interviews; financial assistance for one case, and 8 meal tickets.

Legislature Unveils New Authority 'Borrowing' Plan

HARRISBURG, April 6 (AP)—After more than a year of inaction, a new plan to borrow 100 million dollars for state construction was unveiled in the Legislature today.

The Senate received a bipartisan compromise bill that would authorize the General State Authority—borrow-and-build branch of the state government—to increase its debt ceiling to 430 million dollars.

The money would go for construction under seven state departments and at the Pennsylvania State University.

Request

The Leader administration originally asked for an increase of 130 million. An administration bill calling for that amount is stalled in the House.

The House Rules Committee promptly gave the new proposal preliminary approval and moved it into position for possible final Senate action next week.

The GSA sells bonds to build state projects. Then it leases the completed buildings to the state.

Under the new plan the largest share of the 100 million would go to the Welfare Department. Buildings worth 42 million, including two new institutions for mental defectives in western and central Pennsylvania. Sites have not been chosen.

The Department of Public Instruction would get 25 millions for construction at all 14 state teachers colleges.

Construction amounting to 12½ million is slated for Penn State.

State Police

The Pennsylvania state police are listed for three million.

Blakely—substation; Erie—substation; Hershey—state police training school. (State police facilities at Greensburg, Mercer and other such places as required).

Other allotments include 42 million for the Welfare Department and $1,700,000 for the Forest and Waters Department.

Rewards Set For Riesel Assailant

NEW YORK, April 6 (AP)—A thug who hurled sulphuric acid into the eyes of labor columnist Victor Riesel may have fallen into police hands immediately after the attack, then talked his way free.

This was indicated today in a report by an unnamed policeman who said he stopped a young man running from the scene of the assault at about the time Riesel was set upon.

The man told the cop he was running from two Puerto Ricans who had tried to hold him up. The officer let the man go and went in search of the Puerto Ricans, but without finding them.

The policeman's description of the man tallied with descriptions of the acid hurler who confronted Riesel early Thursday as he left Lindy's restaurant at Broadway and 51st St.

Summored

The cop and his partner were summoned to the district attorney's office to see if they could assist investigators in the biggest New York manhunt since the murder of millionaire draft dodger Serge Rubinstein Jan. 27, 1955.

Riesel, facing possible loss of his eyesight, attributed the vicious assault to a radio broadcast earlier in which he had attacked racketeers in the International Union of Operating Engineers.

Newspaper and radio circles, agast at the intimidation implied in the attack, joined with other agencies in offering rewards totaling more than $30,000 for the apprehension of the acid hurler.

Some newspapermen expressed hope that a quick arrest and punishment would put such attacks on working newsmen in the same category as so-called "cop killings." By tradition, police seek harsh and speedy justice for any criminal who kills one of their number.

One of the largest rewards, $10,000, was offered by the International Ladies Garment Workers Union, of which Riesel's father was once an official. The elder Riesel died in 1947 after he was beaten for his crusade against union racketeers.

Meanwhile, elaborate police precautions were being taken to protect Riesel's associates against the acid thrower.

Report Also Scores Former County Board

MONROE County's former Republican commissioners yesterday were soundly criticized for allegedly failing to keep their books posted until the end of the last fiscal year.

The criticism is contained in a note attached to the 1955 audit which has just been completed by Monroe County's board of auditors, headed by Mahlon S. Bescker. All three auditors signed the notation.

The report also scored the former county board for employing "certain procedures and methods of bookkeeping and financing... during 1955 which are not consistent with generally recognized principles."

"While these procedures and methods did not result in financial loss to the county," the report continued, "the auditors condemn such practices."

Copies of the audit have been filed in the prothonotary's office and in Harrisburg. It will also be published in The Daily Record.

Note

The note alleged that the former commissioners transferred a total $47,000 from the liquid funds fund to the general fund and the institutions account.

The commissioners transferred $43,700 of liquid funds monies to the general account as a temporary loan, the note claimed. And $4,000 was transferred to the institutions accounts as a temporary loan.

"This procedure is expressly prohibited by statute and by the constitution of Pennsylvania," the note added.

The auditors also charged the books were not posted and totaled for 1955, and "receipts were not filed properly or accurately."

The $47,000 in transfers listed above were not posted, and resulted in a "loss of time and created additional problems for the auditors," the note continued.

The auditors further alleged the records did not—and do not—reflect a $15,000 note executed in June, 1955 to secure a loan.

Repaid

"This loan was granted and promptly repaid although the canceled and receipted note apparently is not on file in the commissioners' office," the report concluded.

The audit itself showed that general fund receipts amounted to $52,284.29 on Jan. 1, 1955. On the first day of the current year, the general fund contained $31,039.75. However, total unpaid liabilities amounted to $35,769.66.

Of this latter figure, $26,003.56 represented the final bill of the J. L. Jacobs firm for work done on Monroe County's controversial tax equalization program.

Here is a summary of receipts and disbursements in 1955:

Balance in treasury Jan. 1, 1955, $52,284.29; general fund, $38,835.49; physicians fee fund, $1,392.68; institutions district fund, $56,146.04; total Jan. 1, 1955, balance, $138,658.50.

Soviet Premier

LONDON, April 6 (AP)—Soviet Premier Bulganin and party chief Khrushchev bowed today before outraged British public opinion and kicked their secret police chief, Ivan Serov, off the team that will come to Britain with them April 18.

The Russians, obviously straining hard to win friends among the British, abruptly dropped Gen. Serov after insisting he would be coming along.

GOING HOME

You've heard of heredity and environment. You know that the latter usually exercises the stronger influence upon the development of a child.

Then you are face to face with the dilemma of the Church.

The Church can give to every child who comes within its influence the heritage of the Christian faith. It can teach him the truth about God; it can show him the Christian way of life.

But what happens when a child goes home? Will the lesson "stay learned?" Or will it be destroyed by language, attitude and example contrary to all the Church has taught?

It isn't enough to send your child to church school. Become a church-going family! Let Christian truth mold the life of your home and it will mold the life of your child.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL...
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Army Engineers, State Agency Hope To Rush Flood Protection

The Army Corps of Engineers had reassuring news for people of the Poconos yesterday in their announcement that they are undertaking an accelerated study of flood control problems here.

The survey will be made in advance of the comprehensive study of the entire Delaware Valley, which will take an estimated three years to complete.

Last August's floods demonstrated that this region is vulnerable to high water in times of extremely heavy rainfall. Three years, therefore, is too long a period to wait for adequate flood protection along the tributary streams, where the danger of flash floods is greatest.

We will never be satisfied with anything less than a sound program that proceeds at an orderly, expeditious pace. While our economy has been able to survive one disaster, there is no likelihood that we can go through others and still come up with our heads erect.

The fact that the Army Engineers and the State Department of Forests and Waters are cooperating in their studies is construed as an indication we may look ahead to the greatest possible speed commensurate with the size of the job faced.

In fact, the state agency expects to be able to begin construction of parts of the flood control program for the Stroudsburg area upon completion of the preliminary report of the Army Engineers early this Summer.

Col. Allen F. Clark, Jr., district engineer for the Army Engineers, said the preliminary report should be ready by June of this year and the full study completed by early 1957.

Purpose of this survey is to develop a feasible plan for the protection of the Stroudsburg area from floods like that experienced last August on Brodheads, McMichaels and Pocono Creeks. The study will consider both flood control reservoirs and local protection works—meaning dikes, levees, rip-rap work, etc.

There will be any number of opportunities for hitches to develop before an adequate flood protection system comes into being here. To smooth the way for those agencies which are trying to bring flood control to this region, every citizen and every organization should stand in the way of anyone who tries to block the program for his own selfish interest.

Plans, based on cooperative efforts as outlined by the Department of Forests and Waters and Army Engineers, have full endorsement of The Daily Record. They promise the protection we need. But there can be no complacency on our part. By active cooperation, we can show our interest in flood control. But we must go beyond that. We must be alert to let those in authority know when the program begins to lag, and see that there is no let-up in any phase at any time.

University Professors Are Wrong In Condemning Dismissal Of Reds

The American Assn. of University Professors formally has condemned the dismissal of Communists from college faculties. It also defends those who take the Fifth Amendment to avoid saying whether they are Communists.

Adherents of communism say the professors, should be permitted to present their views, "especially in colleges and universities, so that they can be checked in open discussion."

George Sokolsky Says...

Canadian Proposal To Tax U. S. Magazines Entering That Country Termed Stupid Move

The Canadian Finance Minister, Walter Harris, proposes to tax advertising in Canadian editions of American magazines.

He said in his Budget Speech that the 20 per cent would be levied on all revenues they received from advertising, and told reporters afterward that "all" was exactly what he meant.

What Mr. Harris seems to propose is that all American magazines be forced to withdraw from Canada, not permitting even a single copy to be mailed to that country, lest it be called a Canadian edition and taxed. This is vicious anti-Americanism which can only result in vicious anti-Canadianism.

Apparently the magazine aimed at is the "Reader's Digest" which employs 322 Canadians and has a Canadian payroll of more than $1,250,000 and is the only true national magazine in Canada, as it publishes in both French and English which are the two national languages of Canada.

"Time" spends about $4,000,000 in Canada. It would not break either of these publications if an unjust tax forced them to withdraw from Canada altogether.

Nor would such a withdrawal affect the American economy one way or the other. What is unfortunate is that many Americans are beginning to feel that our old-time good neighbor with whom we have had so few quarrels and none of them serious or important since we both became nations, is no longer such a good neighbor. Too many incidents are occurring which give the impression that official Canadians believe that the United States is a lemon to be squeezed to the last drop. That is clearly apparent in the Canadian cartelized handling of newsprint which is having such a deleterious effect upon the American newspaper industry. It is in this commodity that Canadian policy really hurts and is producing in this country a bad opinion of Canada.

It would be most unfortunate for both countries, but more so for Canada, if Congress were required by any large section of the American electorate to decide on a policy of economic retaliation. Nobody wants that. Nobody desires any quarrel or misunderstanding with Canada, but it could happen.

For instance, it is very difficult to understand why Lester Pearson, Canadian Secretary of State for External Affairs, pushes so hard for the recognition of Red China. Canada has never had any important interests in China nor has Canada's trade with China ever amounted to much.

What is the Canadian interest in this? Why does Lester Pearson embarrass the United States by promoting the cause of Red China? Surely, it cannot be for ideological reasons. What then is the explanation?

It is reported that in the recent conversations among President Eisenhower, the Canadians and Mexicans, Lester Pearson again raised the question of Red China and that he was told off, because the United States is not ready to recognize Red China, not even in 1957 as some plan for us to do. Nor do the American people believe that a nation should shoot its way into the United Nations, particularly by shooting Americans as the Chinese Communists did in Korea.

ing, is still out on this. What stirred taxpayers was the news, on top of this, that Uncle Sam was being asked to equip an aircraft carrier as a global touring theater, at vast expense, to get the truth about America across in "trouble spots." With Moscow's leaders getting the rug rolled out for them as they slug away at the free world, can it be that Uncle Sam is in his right mind in not making a counter-attack with something stronger than saxophones, kettledrums, wide-screen pictures and the "best of Broadway"?

The Communies didn't win China, Indonesia and points east and west by a use of symphonic music and a navy showboat. We fail to see an effective sock in a violin against any enemy using jagged bottles. How far can such a trend go? Entertainment can help propaganda, but the day could come when there would be an effort to save the world through Broadway.

British Visitor Aims Views On U. S. Children

Sir Basil Henriques, English authority on juvenile delinquency, was a recent guest in this country—and he went home in a bad mood. Beneath the headline, "Sir Basil says American TV is evil," the Sunday Express published his statement from Liverpool:

"Juvenile crime in Britain is negligible compared with the United States. Gangsterism there is such as we do not know in England. After visiting courts all over the U. S., I heard cases far worse than any I had ever listened to in my 33 years on the Bench. Car stealing is one of the most common of juvenile crimes. They seem to think nothing of it. American television is a pernicious evil. Perhaps I was unlucky," he said, "but I saw nothing but murder, divorce and prison scenes."

"The trouble is that children are watching this instead of doing their homework. There is no doubt that TV is a contributory factor to juvenile crime in America."

"Another cause is lack of discipline in the home. Children rule the parents instead of parents ruling the children. Then there is this widespread lust for material things in which the example is set by the parents."

Before we get in a mood to match Sir Basil's, it might be well to remember that the purpose of his visit was a narrow one: That of studying juvenile crime. His observations were limited to our troubled and troublesome youth, not the overwhelming majority of fine young citizens of whom we are so proud. It would seem, however, that juvenile delinquency records might have assumed a better proportion in this critic's mind had they been observed in relation to the whole picture rather than separately.

It was "unlucky" that our British friend missed the remarkable exhibition of original scientific projects in Washington, D. C., conducted by gifted young American students. This exhibit was in progress while Sir Basil investigated criminal activities. While the projects would have been beyond his comprehension, their achievement might have brightened his outlook a bit.

"Materialism"—which to a Britisher always means pink bathtubs and central heating—is always good for a slap at Americans. Having no modern plumbing of their own, and stuffily opposed to indoor warmth above 50 degrees, Britishers are usually enraged at the sight of "money-mad" Americans laundering themselves and their clothes via jewel-toned appliances. Quite enough to turn Yorkshire pudding to dust in their mouths. And central heat? Frightful waste, old boy, when the charwoman can lug scuttles of coal above stairs. As for Sir Basil's unlucky encounter with TV, perhaps he saw the same late movies we did (British-made, as it happens, and full of divorce, murder and sundry).

We are not proud of the delinquency situation here. It is our national shame. Perhaps when our best minds and funds can be applied to the problem, instead of to international crises, a solution will be found. Until then, it might be more appropriate for visitors to withhold comment so misrepresentative of Americans—youth and not so young.

When the nurse informed Mr. Williams he was the father of twin boys, he remarked, "Now I know how a big league manager feels after bad weather has washed out a dozen games in three weeks."

"Whatever are you talking about?" asked the nurse.

"Nothing ahead of me," explained Williams grimly, "but twin bills."

The pastor shook the hand of the village black sheep, and said warmly, "I'm happy to see that you're turning over a new leaf at last. We all were mighty pleased when you attended our little prayer-meeting last night."

"Oh-ho," nodded the V. B. S. "So that's where I was!"

Electronic Warning System Reconsidered At Big Saving

Washington, April 6 — The Air Force is having an $830,000,000 second thought on its controversial contract with American Telephone and Telegraph Co. for a multi-billion dollar electronic warning system.

The $830,000,000 is what the government will save over a ten-year period as a result of the Air Force's second thought on SAGE.

SAGE is the code name for this giant project, which has been under scrutiny by three congressional committees since it was brought to light last October by House Democratic Leader John McCormack, Mass. He charged the Air Force lacked the authority to grant such a contract, and that AT&T's rates were excessive.

McCormack has scored bullseyes on both these charges. Comptroller General Joseph Campbell, in an official letter to Defense Secretary Wilson, held the Air Force had acted illegally and would have to go to Congress for authority to launch SAGE.

And the Air Force and AT&T have slashed the original operating cost of the far-flung network from $240,000,000 a year to $157,000,000.

For the proposed ten-year duration of this contract, that annual $83,000,000 difference will save the government $830,000,000.

The Air Force disclosed this huge second-thought economizing at a private meeting of the Senate Armed Services Committee, which has been digging into SAGE. It was revealed by Major General Gordon Blake, director of electronic communications, under the bipartisan grilling of Senators Henry Jackson (D., Wash.) and Francis Case (R., S. D.).

It was also brought out that the House Appropriations Committee, as a result of its probing, is writing provisions dealing expressly with SAGE in the new defense budget. The Air Force will be empowered to sign a contract with AT&T, but with various safeguards on maintenance and other charges.

The investigation of SAGE, by the House Armed Services Committee, is still in progress. Some Committee members are talking of demanding even tougher contract restrictions when the issue comes before the House later this month.

From the Transcript — Senators Case and Jackson didn't get all the information they sought.

While General Blake disclosed the $83,000,000 cut in annual toll charges, neither he nor John Johnson, general counsel of the Air Force, threw any light on other pertinent matters put up to them: such as how much AT&T is investing in this multi-billion dollar project, and whether the government's interest is fully protected.

Following are highlights of this significant backstage discussion:

"How much will the telephone companies invest in this undertaking to justify the $157,000,000 annual toll charges you now say are going to be paid?" asked Senator Jackson. "What is the invested capital upon which you base this large annual payment?"

"That can only be estimated," replied General Blake. "A lot of these lines have already been built by the companies and are being used for other purposes at present."

"You still haven't answered my question," insisted Jackson. "Again I ask you, how much will the telephone companies invest just for SAGE?"

"We don't know," finally admitted Blake, "and I don't believe it's a figure that can be gotten. Until actual work is started by the telephone companies, we don't know and they don't know."

This drew a sharp exclamation from Senator Case.

"If you don't have a principal capital cost factor," the South Dakota Republican demanded, "on what basis did you reach an agreement on rates? How did you arrive at that?"

"Our rates are determined by those set by the appropriate regulatory bodies," said Blake. "The Federal Communications Commission for interstate rates, and state agencies for those rates."

"I don't see why you should accept any standard schedule of rates," argued Case. "This is a very different situation. The telephone companies don't have to worry about collection losses or collecting from a multitude of customers. They will present one bill and that will be that."

"What bothers me," declared Jackson, "is that there is no evidence before us that the capital investment by the telephone companies is even going to approach the $220,000,000 contingent liability you set up. I'm not against telephone companies, but we have the obligation to make sure the government is properly protected."

General Blake contended that is being done.

"Will you have authority to audit the books of the telephone companies?" demanded Senator Case.

"There is no auditing authority so far as I know," replied general counsel Johnson.

"I would prefer to leave that to be handled by the appropriate federal and state regulatory agencies," said Blake.

"That warrants further study," said Jackson drily. "We're far from satisfied with what you're proposing to do. We're going to look into this some more."

Landmark Returning To Tannersville

By Jim Riley

An old landmark in Tannersville, the Pocono Diner, will be reborn, so this reporter was told the other day. Otis C. Alger, owner of the once famous diner that was splattered to the four winds by the raging Pocono Creek last August, will give way to a shiny new structure in the near future.

The new diner, scheduled to bear the old name, will be constructed just below the old building. No date has been set for building the structure and no opening day has been revealed, but it will reportedly be very soon.

Gary Emanuel, a former resident of Stroudsburg, is now employed in Detroit as an electrical engineer. The former Stroudsburg high basketball star is scheduled to move to the same concerns new plant in Cedar Rapids, Iowa, on Tuesday of next week. Gary graduated from Penn State last January.

Jack Sommers, Bill "Bump" Metzger, Howard Smith, Dick Owens and Pete Gearhart all departed for the Army yesterday at 7 a.m. We wish the five former athletes the best of luck and plenty of success during their tour of duty in the employ of Uncle Sam.

Reg Nauman, one of the hardest workers in making the lighting system at Memorial Stadium a reality, was told to see the spring-like weather move into Monroe County. Reg was unable to get home for two days during the recent snows which swept the locality. Nauman lives in East Stroudsburg RDI.

Glen Brook Country Club is scheduled to hold its grand opening a week from today. Ralph "Pete" Arnold is only one of many area golfers waiting for the official start of the season at the local club. Arnold jumped the gun by playing at Green Pond last weekend.

Miss Ann Dudewicz, owner of Cloud Crest Kennels in Mount Pocono, dropped in The Daily Record office the other day to pass the time of day and toss out several cheery hellos. Ann raises Shetland Dogs and has won many honors in shows throughout the east and south.

The Once Over

—by H. I. Phillips

Maybe that hassle over an American Symphony Orchestra and its interrupted global tooting at government expense originated in fear that it planned to spread our culture through "See You Later, Alligator; After a While, Crocodile!" and similar current hits. A symphony orchestra generally sticks to the classics, but strange happenings are taking place in the American world of so-called music, and we hear forthcoming numbers will include "Meet Me In The Park, Man Eating Shark," "Oh, White Man, Be My Darlin'," "I'm That Way Over a Green Moray," "My Love Is Real, Electric Bel" and Another top hit that would do America no good in the cause of world peace and understanding is "Go On With the Wedding, Don't Bother About Me"; and there are alarming rumors publishers are considering "Go On With My Birthday Party; I'll Send Somebody Else" and "Proceed With Our Honeymoon, For I'll Not Be There." The danger is great. The State Department in its cancellation of the Symphony Orchestra's Near East trip spoke of Commie leanings. It is hard to see how an oboe, cello or bull fiddle can be a sabotage instrument, or to picture the musickers dropping their sheet music to do mystery tooting for the Kremlin. The jury, in a manner of speaking, is still out on this. What stirred taxpayers was the news, on top of this, that Uncle Sam was being asked to equip an aircraft carrier as a global touring theater, at vast expense, to get the truth about America across in "trouble spots." With Moscow's leaders getting the rug rolled out for them as they slug away at the free world, can it be that Uncle Sam is in his right mind in not making a counter-attack with something stronger than saxophones, kettledrums, wide-screen pictures and the "best of Broadway"?

Entertainment can help propaganda, but the day could come when there would be an effort to save the world through Broadway.

The Communies didn't win China, Indonesia and points east and west by a use of symphonic music and a navy showboat. We fail to see an effective sock in a violin against any enemy using jagged bottles. How far can such a trend go? Entertainment can help propaganda, but the day could come when there would be an effort to save the world through Broadway.

I'm sorry I can't marry you, Roger—but don't feel too bad. There are LOTS of girls seven feet tall.

Deadline For Filing Tax Returns Near

WITH LESS than two weeks remaining before the deadline for filing Federal income tax returns, District Director or Internal Revenue F. P. Graham announced that several thousand persons in the District have not yet filed and paid their 1955 Federal income taxes. While thousands of returns have already been received, there still remains a high percentage of unfiled returns and unpaid taxes based on last year's figures. People who have not yet filed are urged to do so before the April 16 deadline.

The director added that long lines of taxpayers awaiting assistance are expected as the deadline draws near. He suggested, however, that many who have not as yet filed can avoid waiting in line by using the telephone service to get a fast, accurate answer to their tax problems.

At Home
Mr. Graham said, "Thousands of taxpayers may be able to complete their returns in the comfort of their homes by phoning any Internal Revenue office if they have trouble, and may thus avoid waiting in line at our offices."

Mr. Graham further stated that the number of returns received with errors is rather high and requests that taxpayers examine their returns before mailing for the following: Did I print my name and address? Have I included all proper dependents? Have I attached all W-2 statements? Is my arithmetic correct, and did I sign the return? Joint returns should have both signatures.

Returns of taxpayers residing in the Scranton District should be mailed to District Director of Internal Revenue, Post Office and Courthouse Building, Scranton 14, Pennsylvania. Checks or money orders in payment of additional tax should be drawn to "Internal Revenue Service."

MOUNT POCONO—About 10 brush fires broke out yesterday afternoon along DL&W Railroad right-of-ways between here and Sam Henry Crossroad in Barrett Township.

Market Hits New High

NEW YORK, April 6 (U)—The stock market hit another new high today—its third this week.

Extensive price increases were common among higher priced issues. Gains of 4 to 7 points were scored. There were many gains of 1 to 3 points. Losses usually were rather small, but they were numerous.

Oils, aircrafts and chemicals were foremost in the advance together with a number of individually strong stocks.

Toward the close some of the low priced stocks came to life with a rush of trading.

Motors
Motors were somewhat neglected, and the airlines were lower. Lots of minus signs appeared in the non-ferrous metals.

The market started higher and held its forward look all day. Near the close, however, some prices eased back, and trading subsided to a moderate pace.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up $1.10 at $191.50, a new record high mark. The industrial component of the average gained $2.60 at a new high of $275.20. The rails were up 20 cents at $146.40, and utilities added 30 cents at $74.70.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

When I was writing the other day about meetings, and the fact that so often the business sessions are so cut and dried that motions and nominations are almost automatically approved, I wasn't talking about Red Cross meetings.

While they are unfailingly amicable, they are never cut and dried. Whether it's because the members are people of strong opinions or because they're just extra ordinarily vocal about them, I couldn't say.

What I can say, however, is that no motion, however simple, can be considered automatic at Red Cross. On the other hand, once every member has been heard from and they finally reach an agreement, it's unanimous in spirit as well as in words. Which is more than you can say about some clubs where nobody says boo at the meeting and then grips privately to one who will listen.

However, the board was unanimous right from the start last night on one matter, and that was that Mrs. Ida Kunkle take her vacations (note the plural) forthwith. There was only one dissenting voice — Mrs. Kunkle's.

But the board stood firm. Two years ago she had three days of her vacation when an emergency in the office called her back. Last year she was preparing for a vacation the last two weeks in August, and you know how she spent those weeks — and all the succeeding weeks through the flood recovery.

If anyone every deserved a vacation, Mrs. Kunkle does, and a grateful board is going to see that she takes it — after the annual meeting in May, of course — if they personally have to pack her bags.

Treible-Saltzer Wedding Witnessed By 350 Guests

The Royersford Methodist Church was filled for the wedding of Miss Norma Jean Saltzer to Harold E. Treible, performed by Rev. Lindon K. Menning, pastor, in the presence of 350 guests on Saturday, March 31, at 2:30 p.m.

Miss Saltzer is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell A. Saltzer, of Pottstown RD. 1. Mr. Treible's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Treible, reside in East Stroudsburg.

Palms and lilies at the altar, and pew ribbons arranged with carnations formed the background for the wedding party. Before the ceremony a recital of bridal music was given by the church choir with Mrs. Freda Phillips as soloist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal wedding gown of Chantilly lace over bridal satin. The fitted bodice featured long tapered sleeves, a small Peter Pan collar highlighted with sequins and iridescent beads, and a yoke of scalloped lace. Her bouffant skirt swept into a cathedral train. Her veil of imported silk illusion was draped from a crown of seed pearls and sequins. She carried a white Bible with a white orchid and showers of feathered carnations.

Mrs. Edmund Sova, matron of honor, wore a bouffant-skirted, full-length gown of pale pink tulle and taffeta. The strapless bodice was studded with darker pink sequins and topped by a stole. Deep ruffles formed the skirt, and a small crown veiled in matching pink completed her costume.

The bridesmaids, Janet and Jean Treible, sisters of the bridegroom, and Suzanne Saltzer, sister of the bride, wore floor length gowns of deeper pink net and lace with matching shrug jackets collared in lace. The bouffant skirts featured peplums of lace edged with net ruffles and a bustle back. Their headpieces were veiled. All the attendants carried bouquets of carnations in shades of pink, ranging from pale to dark.

Flower girl was Cynthia Stetler, a cousin of the bride, and she wore a gown similar to the bridesmaids with a built-up bodice and short puffed sleeves and carried a small basket filled with carnations in shades of pink.

Edward Treible served as his brother's best man. The ushers were Richard Foltz and Richard Stetler, cousins of the bride, and Leonard Mosier, of East Stroudsburg, the bridegroom's brother-in-law.

There were 250 guests received in the church social room by Mrs. Saltzer, mother of the bride, who wore a seafoam green crystalite cocktail length gown with a flowered hat in matching green. Mrs. Treible, mother of the bridegroom, wore a Wedgwood blue gown with pink accessories. Both mothers had orchid corsages.

To start on their wedding trip to the Poconos, the bride wore a dark blue suit with a pale blue blouse, hat and gloves.

Mr. and Mrs. Treible will reside in Shawnee where Mr. Treible is employed at Shawnee Valley Farms by John Farrington. He was graduated from East Stroudsburg High School with the class of 1948.

Mrs. Treible attended Pottstown High School and before her marriage was a piano teacher at Lamb's Music House. She also served as director of the Royersford Methodist Church choir.

Bridal showers were given the bride before her marriage by Jean and Janet Treible in East Stroudsburg; by her fellow music teachers at Lamb's; and by members of her church choir. A rehearsal party was given at Village Inn for members of the wedding party on Friday night.

Teen Canteen Opens Sunday As Community Work Pays Off

Newfoundland — Less than two months ago a youth center for the area was the dream of local teen-agers. Tomorrow, the "teen-canteen," the realization of that dream, has its formal opening.

At 2 p. m., the doors will be open to both teen-agers and adults. After the Sunday "open house," adults, with the exception of the designated adult supervision, are expected to enter "by special invitation only."

The opening will climax the combined efforts of the youth of the community and a number of civic organizations plus the wholehearted cooperation of merchants and other individuals throughout the area.

During the past month, the teen-agers with the assistance of a few adults, have transformed a drab, flood-damaged room in the Allen Cross building into a smartly-decorated, fully-equipped gathering place for the young folks. There's a juke-box, a television set (both donated), attractive tables and chairs, space for dancing, a snack bar, complete with refrigeration facilities, a grill and a soda fountain—just about everything that could be desired by the younger set for clean, wholesome fun.

The teen-agers will administer and operate the "canteen" with the assistance of an adult advisory council, headed by Mrs. A. V. Lupo, president of the Greene-Dreher Woman's Club. Miss Thelma Skelton heads the young people's organization.

Adult supervision will come from the participating civic organizations, the Woman's Club, the American Legion, the American Legion Auxiliary, the Rotary Club and the local Parent-Teachers Association.

The canteen will be open Fridays and Saturdays from 7 p. m. to 11 p. m., and on Sundays from 2 p. m. to 5 p. m.

DELAWARE WATER GAP—Borough Council has voted to buy a new police patrol car and hire an extra part-time patrolman.

Hired to serve as extra patrolman was Randall Ott. Councilmen decided it was more economical to trade in on a new model car every two years rather than keep the old one.

Contract

Jap Sends Gift To Soviet Official

TOKYO, April 6 (AP)—A Japanese fisheries executive, Tsunejiro Hiratsuka, is sending a Czarist era painting as a gift to a Soviet official who admires it.

The painting is titled "A Princess Visiting a Nunery."

Pencils are made six-sided rather than round so they won't roll away.

1955 LV League Obstacle Still Facing Mountaineers

(Editor's Note—First of two articles on the baseball prospects at local high schools. Today's is on the potential at Stroudsburg High School.)

JERRY STULGATIS, head baseball coach at Stroudsburg High, faces the same problem that closed out the 1955 Lehigh Valley League campaign—that of fighting last year's champions, Northampton, down to the '56 LV championship wire.

For it was the Konkrete Kids who ended the '55 title hopes of the Mountaineers by topping Stulgatis' proteges in the final game of the circuit season. The win gave Northampton the league crown and dropped Stroudsburg into the also-ran class.

Same Situation

This year the Mountaineers of Stulgatis come up against the same situation as defending kings Northampton returns with practically the same winning lineup. However, things may be different if Jerry gets the type of pitching expected from his two front line hurlers.

In left-handed Frank (Buddy) Radler Jr. and right-handed Don Setzer, the Mountaineers have two twirlers that could help Stroudsburg go all the way this year. Team followers admit the success of Stroudsburg this season lays in the portside and orthodox pitching of Radler and Setzer.

Vets Available

But Radler and Setzer won't be alone in forming the outline of the '56 chances of the Mountaineers. Several veterans heavily experienced in diamond warfare, also will be available for the championship campaign.

At this writing, the opening day lineup could shape up as follows: Don Stopp behind the plate; captain Fran Hassara or Charley Cramsey at first base; Barry Tretheway or Dick Everitt, second base; Ron Stopp, shortstop; Hallock, or Dick Cramsey, left field; Dick Nichols, center field; and Ron Edjies, Bob Pugh or Larry Beseker, right field.

Open Thursday

Stroudsburg will open the season Thursday at Gordon Ciffels Field against Pocono Township. The game is scheduled to get underway at 4 p.m.

The Mountaineers league season is slated to get started Friday, April 20 with Whitehall High as the foes on the Zephyrus diamond.

There was a time when the schoolboy phenom could get by on his athletic ability alone. But this is not so today. Higher academic standards plus keener competition from student-athlete youths have made the race for free awards to college a tight race.

However, the opportunity is there. All that's needed is a little initiative on the part of the schoolboy, coupled with his better than average performance on the athletic field.

This is where the frosh, sophomores and juniors come in and the seniors go out. The first, second and third year high school students have the chance to work up grades and pick off one of the many educational plums that are floating around the country.

If only two boys a year in this area get scholarship bids the extra effort would be an accomplishment in itself. Even at that, the "losers" would be gaining the extra knowledge acquired. As one teacher once pointed out, "They (anybody) can steal everything from you but your education. This (knowledge) is yours to be retained forever."

Our advice to underclassmen would be to hitch onto this horse and take a ride into the fields of higher learning. It's a winner all the way.

QUICK PICKUP—Bangor High may have a new basketball coach before school closes in June. Reports from the Slate Belt area persist that Walter A. Vanderbush will replace the recently resigned John Heard as head coach mentor. Vanderbush, now a resident of West Orange, N. J., was born in Bangor.

His father, Walter H. Vanderbush, served as head football and basketball coach at Bangor from 1932 to 1935.

The younger Vanderbush is now attending Juniata College, Huntington, Pa., where he starred in basketball the past three years.

West Virginia University first started playing baseball in 1892. Jack Dempsey Cassini, manager of the Memphis Chicks in the Southern Assn., led the Ohio State League in stolen bases in 1940.

Ex-PML Head Talks At West End Nine Meet

EFFORT — Harold Kresge, honorary president of the Pocono Mountain Baseball team was the principal speaker at a meeting of the West End A. C., a circuit entry, at the Pohopoko Hotel here last night.

The former PML proxy lauded the efforts of the West End organization and praised the team's management for securing young players.

A short talk was also given by John Wernet, league secretary.

25 Players Linked

In business action, Manager Lloyd Foust announced that the 25 players have been signed to West End contracts. However, he emphasized that several openings for team positions still exist.

He urged that all new and old candidates report for the first drill tomorrow at the American Legion Field, Gilbert. The practice will start at 1:30 p.m.

Everitt Treasurer

In other action, Oscar Everitt was elected treasurer of the athletic club and retiring treasurer, Neil Steigerwalt reported that club's accounts were in ship-shape.

Carl Kresge, club president, was in charge of the session. Twenty-two persons attended.

QUANTICO, Va., April 6 (U)—Through puddles, rain, mist and just plain mud, Tom Courtney of the U. S. Army splashed to victory in the half-time run in a respective 1:52.8 today at the Marine Relays—the opener of the big Olympic-year outdoor season.

One of the top U. S. S. hopes for the Olympic 800-meter title, the ex-Fordham runner ran easily despite the miserable footing and outlegged John Barnes, a member of the 1952 team who now is in the Air Force, by about 10 yards.

Arnie Sowell and Lon Spurrier Courtney's two half-mile rivals, did not enter, so he had the race all to himself.

2 Inches Of Water

Since it was the first meet of the season and some of the teams from the frozen north hadn't had any workouts before the start of this week, the clockings were not particularly notable. In addition, the start was under two inches of water, which didn't help.

Dave Lean of Michigan State, who won the British Empire title in Vancouver, captured the 400-meter hurdles in 54.4. He is a native of Tasmania and probably will run for Australia in the Olympics.

Dwyer Wins 2-Mile

Fred Dwyer won his first race in a long, long time when he led the field home in the two-mile run in 9:12.7. Gordon McKenzie of the New York Pioneer Club, and Joe Tyler of San Diego Navy, tied for second.

In the relays themselves, Western Michigan, Morgan State and Winston-Salem Teachers came through.

St. Joseph's of Philadelphia won the university section of the 440-yard relay in 42.4. Winston-Salem won the college division of the same event in 43.5.

ABINGTON, Pa., April 6 (U)—There will be no games of chance this year at the annual June fete for the benefit of the Abington Memorial Hospital, it was announced today by Mrs. Thomas Kenworthy, co-chairman.

Mrs. Kenworthy said letters were sent out to 1,000 volunteer workers after officials of the fete had received "a warning from friends" in Norristown, the Montgomery County seat.

Bucs Outlast A's

AUSTIN, Tex., April 6 (U)—Dale Long hit a three-run homer in the eighth inning to give the Pittsburgh Pirates a 9-8 victory over the Kansas City Athletics today.

Giambra Gains Decisive Win Over Sullivan

SYRACUSE, N. Y., April 6 (U)—Buffalo's Joey Giambra carved out a unanimous 10-round decision over England's tough John L. Sullivan tonight but he had to call on all his ring savvy to outsmart the rugged Englishman. Giambra weighed 156½, Sullivan 161.

It was a bruising battle all the way with most of it devoted to bone and jaw rattling in-fighting. They stood toe-to-toe, head-to-head for a great share of every round and battled away.

Staves Off Attack

Giambra boxed cleverly and coolly to stave off Sullivan's savage attack. At times it looked as if the Englishman was going to win going away but Giambra came back strong in the latter rounds and won the decision by a slim margin.

Judge Richie Fazio and Paul Cummins each called it for Giambra 54-41 while Referee Harry Kessler called it 63-51. The Associated Press had the slim margin favoring Sullivan, 54-41.

PHILADELPHIA, April 6 (U)—Coach Charley Eckman's Fort Wayne Pistons hope to prove that lightning can strike twice in the same place.

The Pistons, Western Division champions of the National Basketball Assn., met St. Louis in the semifinal playoffs last month and lost the first two of the five game series. They won the third on their home court and then traveled to St. Louis for the fourth game.

Everyone but Eckman and his players said the Pistons were done. Bob Pettit and his St. Louis mates would wrap up the series on their home court. In the pro league the home team usually is accorded about a four point edge.

But the Pistons were far from through. They checked Pettit and won in St. Louis, returned to Fort Wayne and won the fifth and deciding game to qualify for the final playoff against the Philadelphia Warriors, Eastern Division champions.

More Desperate

Now, four games later, Eckman and his boys are almost in an identical situation. In fact, their plight, is even more desperate. They trail the Warriors 3-1 in the best four of seven series and play the fifth game tomorrow night on the Philadelphia floor where the Eastern champs are almost unbeatable.

Even should Eckman's quintet win tomorrow night and triumph again at home on Sunday night, they'd have to come back to Philadelphia for the seventh and deciding game. Their goal, then, is to beat the Warriors twice at Philadelphia.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., April 6 (U)—The formidable Providence line of Zello Toppazzini, Camille Henry and Paul Larivee propelled the Reds to a 6-1 victory over Cleveland tonight in the opening game of the American Hockey League's best-of-seven Calder Cup series.

Reds Win Opener

HOUSTON, Tex., April 6 (U)—After being shut out for two straight days, the New York Giants broke out with a 14-hit barrage; including two homers by rookie first baseman Gail Harris, to crush the Cleveland Indians today, 13-6.

Southpaw Johnny Antonelli, the Giants' probable opening day pitcher, contributed a three-run homer and a single on the attack.

HOUSTON, Tex., April 6 (U)—After being shut out for two straight days, the New York Giants broke out with a 14-hit barrage; including two homers by rookie first baseman Gail Harris, to crush the Cleveland Indians today, 13-6.

Southpaw Johnny Antonelli, the Giants' probable opening day pitcher, contributed a three-run homer and a single on the attack.

MOBILE, Ala., April 6 (U)—Rookie infielder Bob Richardson drove in four runs with a single and triple in his only times at bat to pace the New York Yankees to a 7-4 10-inning victory over Philadelphia today. The loss snapped the Phils' six-game winning skein. Right-hander Don Larsen hurled nine innings for New York and was the winning pitcher although tagged for three homers by rookie Joe Lonnett, pitcher Murry Dickson and Del Ennis who tied the game with his in the ninth.

Venturi Posts Record 135, Ups Masters Golf Spread

By Hugh Fullerton Jr.

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 6 (U)—On a blustery day when Ben Hogan was lucky to break 80 and Cary Middlecoff was happy to settle for par, amateur Ken Venturi again tamed the fearsome par of the Augusta National golf club to hold the 36-hole lead in the Masters tournament with a record 135 score.

Rounds of 66 in yesterday's rain and 69 in today's gusty wind put the young San Francisco auto salesman four strokes ahead of defending champion Middlecoff at the halfway point of the tournament. And a lot of other celebrated golfers were even further behind. Middlecoff, somewhat disturbed by the wind, put a par 72 on top of yesterday's 67.

Hogan, once tabbed as virtually unbeatable on the menacing 6,965-yard Augusta National course, had to make a strong comeback on the back nine to get a score of 78 today. A first round 69 had indicated that the tense Texan again would be a contender for the title he has won twice. But his 147 for 36 holes left him well behind the professional leaders.

Poled, Polish

Venturi, poised and polished as a veteran, was one of the few Masters contestants who displayed any mastery of the par 36-67-72 course which was at its very worst in the strong, uncertain wind. And it didn't even seem to surprise him that he was able to shatter the always tough par for the second straight day.

"I think two more 69s will win it," he joked after his surprising round.

Byron Nelson, to whom Venturi gives credit for developing his fine golf game, set the record of 135 for the first 36 holes of the Masters back in 1946. He shot 65-67 on the first two rounds, tied Hogan after 72 and went on to beat Ben in the playoff. Nelson's prize pupil is the first to equal that mark.

Cary 3-Stroke Up

Although four strokes behind the sharpshooting amateur, defending champion Middlecoff had a three stroke edge over his nearest rivals in the professional part of the field.

Pete Cooper, weatherbeaten Detroit veteran who was one of the very few able to break par today; PGA champion Doug Ford; steady shooting Shelley Mayfield and a somewhat unhappy Tommy Bolt all had 1-2s. Then came Jerry Barber and Jackie Burke at 143 and Bob Rosburg and Fred Hawkins with even par 144s.

Cooper, adding a 70 to his opening 72, had the day's second-best score. It was matched by National Amateur champion Harvie Ward, Burke, with a 71, was the day's only other par-buster.

Wet Registers 155

Scores of Pennsylvanians included: Lew Worsham, Oakmont, 74-72-146; Arnold Palmer, Latrobe, 73-75-148; Mike Souhak, Grossinger, N. Y. 73-73-146; Jay Hebert, Sanford, Fla., 74-76-150; Lionel Hebert, Erie, 77-77-154; Art Wall Jr., Pocono Manor, 75-80-155; Sam Parks Jr., Pittsburgh, 80-82-162.

Jimmy Braddock, ex-heavyweight champion, is beginning to get the knack of bowling. He's in the 125 class. Ex-light heavyweight ruler Gus Lesnevich often bowls 200.

Hector Constantine, Trinidad middleweight boxer, came to the United States from England in 1954.

Designs Club To 'Remove' Golfer's Hook

By Edward S. Kitch

SKOKIE, ILL. (U)—Golf often is frustrating to most everyone except J. Victor East who says if your game is bad it's because your golf clubs acquire built-in hooks and slices.

He bases his convictions on his more than a half century in the game. He has designed a new golf club which, he says, hits "em straight down the fairway."

A native of Australia, East, 69, solves golfing problems for pros, amateurs and week-end duffers.

To East, golf is somewhat of a science. "Since the human being is a uniformly constructed machine, you make a golf club fit into his ability to hit the ball squarely with a seemingly minimum of effort," he says.

Kirkwood Buddy

East toured the United States with trick shot artist Joe Kirkwood in 1921. The next year he became pro at the Biltmore Forest Country Club, near Asheville, N. C. He started a club-making business. A few of his golf tips may help your game:

"Golf equipment must be pre-conditioned and changes made from one club to another with a minimum of muscular adjustment."

Weather Hazard

"Most club heads are made of persimmon wood, faced with fiber material and weighted inside the head. Changes in weather conditions change the club face and put it out of alignment."

"We know by actual machine tests that a golf ball hit 225 yards goes 40 feet off the line flight because of one degree change of angle of the club face."

"Therefore, to check this club change characteristic, I searched for a new material that could be controlled. Scientists developed a synthetic plastic-like material that can be moulded into shape."

"It has twice the resilience of persimmon."

The new clubs remain uniform regardless of weather, says East who has been around golf long enough to have registered eight holes-in-one.

Workouts Slated At Nazareth Oval

NAZARETH — Stock Cars—active since last October—will return to the Nazareth Fairgrounds tomorrow.

No official races are scheduled because the dozens of drivers will be merely trying out the track, and warming up their cars.

The speedy, a half-mile clay oval, will start its official season on Sunday, April 15. Time trials at 1 p.m., races at 2:30 p.m.

Public Invited

This coming Sunday the public is invited to visit the track and watch the speedsters in action.

The track will be under the promotion of Jerry Fried, with Pat Tito as chief steward and Johnny Cathers as director.

'Tobyhanna Days' Show Sites Chosen

TWO OUTSTANDING exhibits will mark "Tobyhanna Days" in the Stroudsburgs on May 11 and 12.

The Signal Corps Depot will have one exhibit in Stroudsburg and another in East Stroudsburg.

To house the exhibit allocated to Stroudsburg, Kerlin said, local diner operator and real estate owner Carl Kohl has "generously donated use of the building which formerly housed the Montgomery Ward Co. store." Centrally located on Main St. in Stroudsburg the new empty store building will afford plenty of space for the display and will "certainly attract hundreds of visitors," Kerlin said.

In East Stroudsburg the depot display will be set up in the windows of The Outlet at 102 S. Courtland St., Kerlin said.

"If people come to see these displays—and I know they will—they will certainly take advantage of values if we have them to offer," Kerlin said. For this reason, he said, merchants will make the special observance highly successful through imaginative and friendly salesmanship in stores filled with bargains.

Kerlin also pointed out that "Tobyhanna Days" this year fall on the weekend of the annual celebration of Mother's Day. Since stores will also be planning special values and displays for that occasion, he said, the weekend will offer great opportunity for forward-looking and enterprising businessmen who want to attract new business while they are keeping established customers pleased.

To help highlight "Tobyhanna Days," Kerlin pointed to the following "special events" on the local level.

Special Edition

A special "Tobyhanna Days" edition of The Daily Record will be printed. Copies of this edition will be presented, without charge, to each of the 3,000 employees at the Signal Depot.

The newspaper on that day will feature Depot news as well as local merchants' advertisements for the occasion. Feature articles on the depot, its personnel and officers will form an integral part of the edition.

Radio Station WVPO will publicize the special event through spot announcements and programming which will call attention to the "bargain days" in The Stroudsburgs with special emphasis on customers from the Depot.

The Association will carry on a broadened drive to acquaint local businessmen and the public with "Tobyhanna Days" beginning immediately. At yesterday's meeting A. N. Widmer, association secretary, urged each member to take it as his own responsibility to publicize the event by word of mouth.

The next meeting on plans for "Tobyhanna Days" will be held Thursday, April 19 at 4 p.m. at the Treaty Room.

UNITED NATIONS, April 6 (U.P.)—Vaseo Vieira Garin, Portugal's ambassador to Canada, presented his credentials this week to serve also as U. N. delegate. Portugal was among 16 nations admitted to membership here last fall.

Delaware Valley Firemen To Meet Every First Tuesday

DINGMANS FERRY—April meeting of the Delaware Valley Volunteer Fire Co. was held at the Delaware Township School on Tuesday with 38 members present, Arthur Ogden presiding. The decision was made to hold all future meetings on the first Tuesday of each month, in order not to conflict with the regular monthly meeting of the Township Board of Supervisors.

15 Candidates Initiated In Tall Cedars

A CLASS OF 15 candidates was initiated into Pocono Forest, Tall Cedars of Lebanon, at a meeting Thursday night in the VFW Home, Warren County Forest, Phillipsburg, N. J., conferred the degrees on John E. Detrick, Daniel G. Warner, Elmer M. Rinehart, Raymond Hartman, John Kitchen, Jacob Altomose, Harold E. Heydt, Roy Lesoine, Jack Lesoine, William Halterman, George W. Stettler Jr., Eugene Comunal, Eugene R. VanAken, Howard Lininger, Paul Bartholomew and Ralph W. Barnes.

Class Guide

Clair Hartzell acted as class guide during the initiation. Others participating were Grand Tall Cedar Van D. Yetter, Senior Deputy Stanley Heller and Junior Deputy George Miller.

The Warren County Rangers presented a drill exhibition. More than 100 Tall Cedars attended the meeting. About 60 Cedarettes, wives of the members, were present for the floor show and refreshments that followed by meeting.

92 Wherry Units Empty

ACCORDING to a report issued this week by the Wherry Housing Association in Washington, D. C., the Wherry project at Tobyhanna Signal Depot is only 54 percent occupied.

The Wherry project at Tobyhanna contains 200 units of housing. It now has 92 vacant units, the report said.

Low Cost

Wherry Housing is a low-cost housing program constructed with the aid of the government. It is designed for areas which have Federally-affected housing problems.

PARIS, April 6 (U.P.)—A group of 12 members of the Socialist party headed by Sen.
